New ASSFSC Board Member Lundgren Confronted by Many Resignations; Must Find Student Replacements

Taking a difficult job made more difficult by a series of resignations in the activities office of the Associated Students, is Len Lundgren, newly elected activities commissioner. He completes a term of office of former Activities Commissioner Jack Hall, whose resignation created the vacancy.

In last week's special election, Lundgren ran without opposition.

APPOINTMENTS DUE

Elected to head the activities office for the Associated Students, Len Lundgren was recently confronted by a series of resignations, which included two of three assistant activities commissioners and other office holders in the activities office.

The new commissioner will be presented with the task of filling several vacancies in the activities office caused by the following resignations: Bev Greenberg, Mary Courtney, Lulu Leon, Dan Caldwell, and Lyn Harris.

FEW CHANGES EXPECTED

The new commissioner, a senior and social science major, doesn't contemplate any major modifications of his predecessor's program. Declaring that there would be few changes in the activities personnel, he said these people, "are doing a good job."

Along with the fair and the bi-weekly rallies, Lundgren will attempt to get a secretarial staff together, and appoint an executive secretary for the activities office.

SEEKS COOPERATION

Commenting on the Associated Students election in which he ran unopposed, Lundgren wished that "more people had run." In response to a query as to his reaction to the aforementioned resignations, he declared: "It's too bad. I was . . . dependent on these people." He added the thought, in regard to Hall's mid-term resignation: "I wouldn't have had the intention of running, if I were going to resign."

Lundgren, pledge master of Alpha Zeta Sigma, an IRC member, and treasurer of the IFSC, expects mutually satisfactory relations with the Board of Control and President Bert Phillips.

Expressing the hope that all the students will cooperate with the activities office, Lundgren said that his future personal plans include a stint in the U.S. Navy, and a return to State for graduate work in education.

IFISC Will Host 'Harvest Moon'

The Inter-Fraternity-Sorority Council is host to a semi-formal dance, the "Harvest Moon Ball," to be held in the Franciscan Room of the Sir Francis Drake Hotel, Tuesday, November 24, from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

The bids sell for $2.50 per couple and may be obtained from fraternity and sorority members or at the door Wednesday night.

Dress will be formals for girls and dark suits for men, with flowers "to be forgotten."

The identity of a mysterious door prize will be revealed only when it is presented on the dance floor.

College 'Circus' Asks for Talent

Through the joint effort of the Physical Education, Dance, Art, Music, and Drama Departments, the S.F. State Varsity Circus will make its appearance in the Men's Gym on December 3, 4, and 5.

All students interested in participating in this all-college effort may contact Mr. Richard McCurdy in the Drama Office (AA 11), old campus.

In true circus tradition, tickets will be available from the Barker, outside the "main tent," on performance nights.

Joie Castelein is Queen, Gators Beat Gauchos For Homecoming

Joie Castelein was crowned Homecoming Queen by Bert Phillips at the rally Friday night. Linda Goble and Joan Turounet were a close second and third; only 30 votes separated the three candidates.

A combination of Friday the 13th and very bad weather may explain the poor attendance at the Coronation rally which was supposed to "start things rolling" for the Homecoming weekend.

In comparison with the rally, the Alumni Dinner Saturday evening was highly successful. Later in the evening students and alumni watched State's team roll to a victorious 26-13 win over Santa Barbara. Luckily the rain held out until the closing minutes of the game.

Walt Tolleson's band provided the music for the circus theme dance which according to general consensus was a financial success.

Student Concerts Held Thursdays

"Music that soothes the savage beast" is available, for no other cost than spending the time from 1:45 until three every Thursday in room 210, Anderson Hall, old campus, to every student at S.F. State.

The noon student concert series, sponsored by the Music Federation's musically minded Students, is a free production. The programs planned, will have soloists, individual instrumentalists, and large musical aggregations.

Al Stron, concert chairman of the Associated Students, in charge of the proceedings, should be contacted for further information.

Directors' Committee Investigating BOC Finds 'Heedless Budget Cuts, Irresponsible Members, Lack of Order'

An investigating committee on the State campus—this one a Board of Directors committee investigating the Board of Control—submitted its completed observations last week.

Carol Benefield, chairman of the committee, read the findings to last week's Board of Directors meeting.

Members of the Board challenge some of the statements in the committee report. Consequently, President Bert Phillips asked the committee to present its findings more concisely.

Criticisms of the ASSFSC financial body were:

"1. The Board is disorganized. The chairman does not keep order. The group does not know what is going on in the meeting. They don't act as a group, and frequently do not question actions."

"2. They do not stick to the subject, but go off on tangents."

(An example given by a committee member concerned a meeting at which the Art Club was asking a subsidy for purchase prizes for the annual art exhibition. A member asked "Who will do the judging with student body money at stake?" and questioned the quality of past prize winners.)

"3. Problems are brought up that do not pertain to the Board of Control."

"4. There is a lack of responsibility on the part of members."

"5. They seem to consider themselves a secondary board to the Board of Directors."

"6. The Board cuts budgets without knowing or thinking why the people need the money. Members should know more about budgets, and study more closely all items in each budget. They seem to cut for the sake of cutting."

"7. (A question): Is it possible for each member to have a form from each club stating their budget request and why they need this money, these forms to go to each member before the first budget session."

"8. There is a need for parliamentary procedure."

"9. The Board of Control should print a full statement of the student body budget, including organization budgets. Students should know where their money is going."

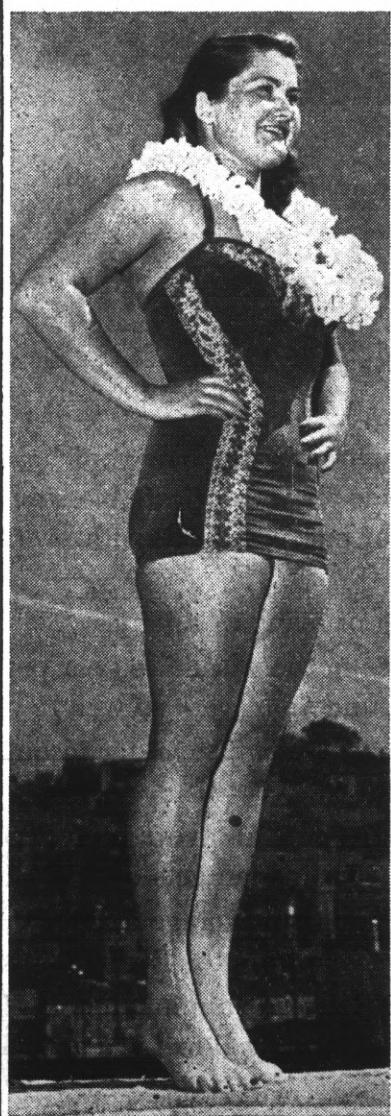

"10. Often no quorum is present."

The committee was composed of chairman Benefield, vice-president of the Associated Students, and members-at-large Sami Judah, Jack Havery, Sue Benjamin, Carol Bondshu, and Bonne Baltzen.

The appointment of the committee by Bert Phillips a few weeks ago followed the receipt by the Board of Directors of a letter from Gater Editor Bob Horn suggesting such a committee.

The letter was in turn an explanation of a Gater editorial the previous week, asking "Is Your Money Being Spent Arbitrarily?"

Swimming star Marion Olson will appear in the Aquacade November 20. She is currently enrolled at State and is training for the Olympics to be held in Australia. She will do a Hawaiian solo "Lovely Hula Hands," in the show. Miss Olson is Junior National Champion.

Phi Epsilon Mu Sports Night Presents Athletic, Dance, and Aqua Exhibitions

Charlie Sava and his Crystal Plunge swimming team will be on exhibition on the night of November 20, along with other exhibitions included in an aquacade sponsored by Phi Epsilon Mu, which promises to be the biggest and best event of its kind yet to be presented at State.

Sava, the master instructor of them all, who has developed Ann Curtis Cuneo and Zoe Ann Jensen among many other nationally and internationally known swimmers, will bring with him Delia Meulenkamp, member of the 1952 Olympic team and the U. S. National Champion, Barbara Stark, who placed fifth in the 1952 Olympic games and is the National Backstroke Champion, and Nancy Simons, who placed second in the National Championships. This is all being sponsored by Robert Patterson.

The first part of the show will be held in the gym, where there will be folk, hula and various other types of dances, a judo and wrestling exhibition, two or three boxing matches, a faculty basketball game and a series of athletic exhibitions by the Elks Club Sportsmen (Big Brothers Athletic Club).

Included in these various acts will be four group members, "The Cheer Leaders," "Hawaiian Fantasy," "Hi Neighbor," and "To the Circus." Marion Olson and Peter Maccan, both juniors at State, will be in a duet entitled "The Cock-eyed Mayor of Haunakakai."

There will also be a comedy skit by Norman Hanley and Clyde Diaz of the Olympic Club.

The show's second segment will be held in the pool, where Charlie Sava and troupe will take command. There will also be a diving exhibition by Georgia Baldassari, the Junior Far Western Diving Champion.

Attempts are being made to contact World Middleweight Champion Bobo Olson, to referee the boxing matches. There will be a dance after the show.

Von Schuschnigg, Ex-Austrian Government Head, Speaks Here on European Problems

"Revolt of the Masses" was the title of a talk given last Friday at the new campus by Dr. Kurt Von Schuschnigg, former head of the Austrian government.

"Bi-partisanism is unknown in many foreign countries at this time," Dr. Von Schuschnigg declared. He emphasized that never has anyone ruled on this earth without establishing that rule on the consent of the people. Predominance of opinion is essential.

The majority of the people, however, don't form their own opinions, but accept those voiced by others who are leaders.

He does not feel concerned about Communist parties in many countries in Europe, Dr. Von Schuschnigg said, because, even in the case of France, where the percentage is highest (yet only 30 per cent), this is only an indication that the people are against something. He asks, "What has been done to bring about a common meeting place?"

The world state runs against nature, he believes, and will never come. Even if we forget about language, it would be a loss.

Rather, Dr. Von Schuschnigg feels common acceptance of general principles of international law, nations acting in good faith, respect for the given word, all bring us nearer to world compatibility than we would be in a world state.—H. H.

...and give thanks you live in America!

THIS THANKSGIVING as you bow your head to express your gratitude for your private blessings, remember to give thanks for one you share with over 150 million other people:

The blessing of living in America.

Nowhere else in the world are your personal rights so well guarded, and your work so well rewarded.

The average American wage, for instance, is $3100 ... the Russian but $720.

The American gets an average of 323 pounds of meat per year ... the Russian gets only 33 pounds.

The American has an average of 38 pounds of sugar to sweeten his life yearly ... the Russian just 18 pounds.

The American spreads a minimum of 18 pounds of butter and margarine on his bread in a year. The Russian gets but 4.2 pounds.

Authority for these Russian production figures? Georgi Malenkov, Premier of Russia. These are his own statistics in his official speech to his Deputies.

He gives no figures for the production of cars, television sets, refrigerators. Eight years after the end of World War II the Russian is apparently getting almost none of these things.

Such unwitting testimony for the free American way of life—from the one who would destroy it—should give us pause this November 26th.

Pause to express our thanks for the gift of American citizenship, and the inalienable rights this gift bestows.

Pause to determine to protect this way of life for ourselves and our children's children ... against any odds!

Profs Lock Horns On Art Amid Fun Frolic, Foolery

The silence of the local "quiet generation" was rudely broken last week when two State professors let loose with bomb and bombast in the Humanities Club debate of "Is Non-objective Painting—?" The "debators" were Mr. Seymour Locks, associate professor of art, and Dr. Matthew Evans, assistant professor of Humanities.

Any wishful thinking on the part of the audience in regard to a searching, intelligent discussion of the question of modern art was soon dispelled. The very confusion of titles of the debate ("Is Non-objective Painting—?" and "Is Non-objective Painting on its way out?") suspicioned a hoax.

GASPS AND GROANS

Mr. Locks presented his case thusly: Robert McClay came forth in a tuxedo and did a dance-pantomime to a recording of gasps and groans. A "fast-beat" (ala Sabre Dance) musical composition followed. Then Miss Jean Ures came forth and undressed herself using her red and white skirt and blouse to make abstract designs.

(In a statement to the campus press, Miss Ures assured reporters that at the time of her act she no longer functioned as a human being, but became a mechanical manipulator of form and shape.)

This was followed by several men tramping in with large signs about their heads reading: "Who am I?" "Where did I come from?" and "Where am I going?"

EVANS WINS

The argument hinted more at Dada than originality. Surely the Dadaistic attack on the 1916 Art world was more original in its demonstration of disgust than to copy from another period as was done here. This approach weakened the Lock argument more than strengthened it.

Dr. Evans survived the opposition's punches admirably. An old believer in good sense and logic, Dr. Evans presented his argument with considerably better appeal. He spoke of some of the functions of art, of the modern artist's assertion of embracing the fantastic, of breaking away from forms that have become slogans and solved formulas. "Once solved, art falls apart,

500, Including 200 Non-Staters, Attend Hui O Aikane Luau

"Luau was a wonderful success," general chairman Al Young commented after last week's Second Annual affair presented by Hui O Aikane.

Surprised by the tremendous response from colleges and universities as far away as Cal Poly. The attendance soared to over 500 people. Approximately 200 students came from other schools, the publicity handled by Morris Bolosan, Louana Norum, and Sylvia Smith.

The food committee imported almost all the items on the menu from the Hawaiian Islands. Working to complete all the details of importing were Sandy Bolosan, Walt Gomez, Sam Hiona, and Ed Kellett.

Decorations and entertainment centered around the South Seas theme. In charge were Stephanie Cabrinha, Joan Mercado, Vic Viviano, Ken Won, and Pat Wong. Tickets for the affair were sold through chairman Barbara Lee.

Plans for next year's Luau are now being readied and there appears to be a strong possibility that a two-day program will be set, according to Joe Velardo, president of Hui O Aikane.

literature falls apart. It is no longer alive once solved," Evans said.

He concluded with his now famous quotation of St. Augustine and the searching for the sun with a candle. He did, however, shed considerably more light on his opponent's argument than the opponent did.

Mr. Leland Mrale, local artist and guest speaker for the Humanities Club, tried to establish some order in the discussion of the world of modern day art. He also touched on the Utilitarian aspects of ancient and modern art.

The two-hour discussion was, on the whole, more devoted to

Campus Style Hints

By AILEEN KELLY

Accessories of basic as well as decorative qualities are much in demand for your social, college and business wardrobe.

Since you are working out an all around wardrobe on a planned budget, it may be good management for the life of your wardrobe to consider quality ahead of quantity.

Some items, such as hats, shoes, gloves, bags, and belts would follow the neutral basic lines for good coordination in usage. This would mean at least one set of black shoes, bag and gloves preferably two, one in leather for day or business wear and one for dress.

A small black felt hat can be worn the year around in San Francisco so is a must for the wardrobe that goes everywhere.

Many people feel that attention concentrated upon neutrality and simplicity will make a drab wardrobe, but perhaps they are forgetting the exciting effect of color on a neutral background. This is much in evidence at present in pattern and color in blouses, belts, collars, scarfs, jewelry and trim on hats as well as brilliant color in casual hats.

Actually it is often necessary to tone down ideas on accessorizing the basic costume. We are all familiar with the idea of colored accessories which is often carried a bit too far. There is the gray, black or navy suit with the red shoes, red bag, and red hat. This is supposedly "set off" by white gloves and a white blouse or red and white printed scarf or blouse.

Often for that "extra touch" there is the addition of rhinestone or red jewelry. Such obvious lack of economy in color and the monotonous one, two, three of the red hat, bag and shoes plus all the "setting off" and "extra touches" detract from good design principles, personality, and general silhouette.

Color texture and design in accessorizing should be used according to your figure proportions, the shape of your face, the coloring of your skin, eyes, and hair and your personality.

For further information on accessorizing your wardrobe to your best advantage, plan to visit your campus Style Service in the Visual Arts and Industry Building, room 107, hours between 11:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. daily.

GATORS CLOSE WINNING SEASON

Fresno's Bulldogs Whip Tide, 41-27, In Wild Scorefest

Featuring long passes and longer runs Fresno State defeated San Francisco State College 41-27 before 7500 Homecoming fans here today.

Halfbacks Winston Beasley and George Fisch were the mainstays of the Bulldog ground attack. Beasley gained 99 yards in nine tries while Fisch plunged for 127 yards in 15 attempts.

The Gators were in the ball game until the third quarter when the Fresnoans pushed across three quick TD's to put the game on ice.

FRESNO SCORES FIRST

Fresno opened up the scoring early in the first quarter when left-half Don Driscoll took a pitchout from QB Bill Hume and scampered 47 yards around right end for six points.

The Bulldogs tallied again midway into the second quarter when Hume threw 17 yards to Duke Snider in the end zone. San Francisco marched right back to score on the accurate throwing of Maury Duncan. Duncan hit end Dick Hodge on the Fresno two yard line. Two plays later Bremond went over left tackle to score.

With 50 seconds remaining in the half Duncan threw a 52 yard floater to Harry Bremond on the Fresno ten. Bremond went all the way. Duncan's PAT attempt was no good. Tackle Sam Bonanno kicked off to Bill Hume on the Fresno 30. Hume returned the ball to the 40. With three seconds left Hume fired a 60 yard aerial to Driscoll for a TD. The Bulldogs left the field with a 21-13 half-time advantage.

THIRD QUARTER SURGE

On the fourth play of the third period Hume passed five yards to Rod Stubblefield who in turn lateraled to Willard Whittaker who eluded three State tacklers rambling for pay dirt.

The Bulldogs scored twice more in the same quarter on runs of 47 and 69 yards by Beasley and Fisch respectively.

The Gators rallied in the fourth quarter on touchdown runs of 13 yards and 65 yards by Rudy Smith. The rally was too little and too late, however.

Backs Rudy Smith and Bob Lualhati suffered leg injuries.

RUGGED BOXING SKED

State's boxers open their season January 14 when they travel to Santa Clara to inaugurate the start of an eight dual-match season.

Included in the schedule are Stanford twice, Nevada (there), Cal Poly and University of California at Richmond's Memorial Stadium.

The season will end with a match against Chico State at Chico in March. Then comes the NCAA Tournament at Pocatello, Idaho.

State Walks Over Gauchos, 26-13, in Homecoming Battle

San Francisco State slushed to a 26-13 victory over the Santa Barbara Gauchos last Saturday evening before 3000 Homecoming fans on Cox Stadium's rainsoaked turf.

The Gators grabbed a 13 point lead in the first four minutes of the first period and kept that advantage throughout the contest.

Harry Bremond, State's shifty halfback, took the opening kickoff 89 yards for a touchdown. Bremond, 155 pound scooter, was apparently nabbed on his own 30 but broke away for the other 70. Shortly after that, Sal Padilla's pass was intercepted by San Francisco's Jim McElroy on the Santa Barbara 35. The Gators were over in four plays with a 21-yard aerial from Duncan to Wehner accounting for the score.

PADILLA PASSES

With two minutes remaining in the first period Sal Padilla passed 26 yards to back Ned Parsons for a touchdown. This TD culminated an 11 play, 80 yard drive.

Early in the second quarter Duncan hit Ben Elkus with a 24 yard pass and Wehner went the rest of the way, 11 yards, on the end around.

State's final score came when Duncan passed 35 yards to Wehner and George sprinted 20 for the six points. Santa Barbara drove 60 yards for its final touchdown with Padilla's passing accounting for most of the damage. Jim Hagey went a half yard for the score.

WEHNER BREAKS RECORD

Wehner, who went into the game with 39 catches, speared five in this one and stands an excellent chance being the nation's top receiver among small colleges. Duncan completed eight out of 20 to bring his 1953 total to 85 completions.

Santa Barbara gained 198 on the ground and controlled the ball on a majority of plays, but could not contain the bursts of Bremond and Duncan-to-Wehner.

Swimposium Scheduled; Five Schools Invited

The Womens Athletic Association will stage a "Swimposium" Saturday, December 5.

The Swimposium will begin at 9:30 a.m. and last until 1 p.m. Girls from Mills College, University of California, San Jose State, Stanford and Holy Names have been invited to attend.

The events will consist of a "master lesson," given by a swimming instructor with the girls following and attempting to duplicate the instructor's methods, relays and other events.

Ten girls will visit from each school invited to appear.

SPORTRAIT

Wehner, Duncan Top Gridders

Duncan and Wehner, the perfect passing team, deadlocked as the outstanding players in State's impressive winning effort against a strong Santa Barbara club. Both seniors who are certain to cop Little All Coast honors and who most observers say should be nominated as Little All Americans, Duncan and Wehner have already each annexed a Sportrait this season. They were easily the two most outstanding players State possessed all year.

Wehner, the rugged end, snared four of Duncan's passes in the Santa Barbara game for 138 yards and two touchdowns, besides scoring another TD on a 10 yard end-around play. George was also the most outstanding defense player on the field.

Although Wehner could have just as easily been chosen over Duncan because of his defensive edge, he wouldn't have snared many passes if Maury weren't laying them in his arms. Maury "the magician" threw a soggy ball for eight completions, 204 yards and two touchdowns. He also set up a third marker with a long pass to end Ben Elkus.

Rudy Smith, a guy with a common name but uncommon ability, and Maury Duncan and George Wehner, the finest passing team ever to grace Cox Stadium, are locked in a three way tie for this, the final week in which an outstanding football player will be honored.

Other outstanding players in the Santa Barbara game were senior fullback Jim McElroy, who, if he had played more would have passed both Duncan and Wehner, and big senior tackle Bob Foote.

The Gator method of Duncan throwing and letting George do it was a natural.

With a bloody nose, tired George Wehner walks off the field

Bremond Bowls Through

It was comparatively quiet on the field last week, with the Gators deep in their own territory. Twenty-two men crouched tensely as the quarterback barked the signals. The ball was snapped with Harry (The Horse) Bremond taking it on a hand-off. He began a gallop around left end with intentions of reaching the finishing line, but tragedy struck after only seven yards when he was knocked out of bounds by two ambitious Santa Barbara men.

Cage Opener to Pit SFS, Alameda

San Jose Second Opponent Tuesday; Probable Starters are Mayfield, Leibe, Burton and Desin

By DAVE KRUG

State's varsity cagers make their 1953 debut at home, next Friday night, against the Alameda Coast Guard. The game, which is scheduled to start at 8:15 P.M. in the New Campus Gymnasium, is a non-league tilt and the season opener for both squads. Since the State-Coast Guard encounter is the tip-off of the season for both teams, there is not much known about the East Bay invaders. However, a large home crowd is expected to witness the Gators as they try to get off on a winning foot.

San Jose State, San Francisco's first opponent from the collegiate ranks, will host the Gators on the following Tuesday night (December 1), in the Spartans first battle of the year.

TROUBLE PLENTY

San Jose, a team that plays a major schedule, always manages to give the Golden Gators more than enough trouble for one evening, especially when the two teams clash in the San Jose gym. Although the Purple and Gold hoopsters have fared fairly well against Can Jose in the Gator hardwood, it has been eight years since a S.F. State team carried a victory out of the Spartan gym.

State, however, is fielding its first experienced team in three years. Besides experience, the locals boast a 6 ft. 2 in. height average on their first team, which is considerably taller than most recent Gator fives.

FARMER HOPEFUL

Hopeful of a good season, by virtue of what he sees in his material, Coach Dan Farmer remarked about the San Jose game. "I feel that this is the year that we may be able to beat them on their own court."

Beginning with this basketball season, the newly revised Far Western Conference, of which State is a member, swings into action. Besides an abundance of practice games, the Golden Tide will meet Humboldt State, Cal Aggies, Chico State, Sacramento State, and Nevada, each twice in league competition.

Farmer's men have been working mainly on defense in practice, recently. Although he's not neglecting offense. Coach Farmer points out, "We must hold down the opponent's score to facilitate winning. You can't rely on simply outscoring the other team."

The return of Bob Leibe, who played for State before going to Japan, has made it necessary to shift certain positions. Leibe, who played guard two years ago, has been moved to center, and last year's center, Al Desin, will be moved to guard. By shifting his men in this fashion, Coach Farmer believes that he is putting his material to the best advantage.

An encouraging situation exists in that every starter has at least three years of basketball experience. This is important in this game, because the players are less apt to get tense under pressure when they have had ample experience.

Coach Farmer's probable starters are Gene Busby and Glidon Mayfield at forwards, Bob Leibe at center, and John Burton and Al Desin at guards.

Newcomers who should aid the Gator cause are Noel Mertens and Jack Morgan who have come up from the JV's and Henry Fort and Robert Johnson, a pair of classy freshmen from El Cerrito High.

Water Poloists Meet Aggies Today

With their seasonal record standing at six wins as against six defeats, the San Francisco State Water Polo team tangles with the Cal Aggies today in the season's finals in the Gator swimming pool.

However, next Monday, the Gators journey to the California Maritime School in Vallejo to participate in the AAU Invitational Meet. The Gators will remain there for both Monday and Tuesday.

Last November 6, the Gators sustained their fifth defeat when they were defeated by the Cal Aggies 8-4. On November 9, they lost their sixth game by the score of 7-2 to the California JV's.

Frosh Comets Win Mural Crown

The Frosh Comets last week annexed two titles, the Intramural Basketball League Championship, and their division of the All College Tournament.

The Comets used the East Bay A.C. as a stepping stone to the All College Tournament Championship when they smacked them in a basketball game by the score of 23-14.

The Comets were victors with Don Demyer, Dick Perrin, Al Fiorelli, George Contos and Larry Volken.

All-College Tournament Nears for Boxing Public

Leading the way with sponsored boxing candidates to participate in the big Boxing Tournament, is Alpha Chi Alpha, who appears to have garnered a host of winners.

The girls have already arranged for individual rooting sections to cheer their heroes on for the preliminaries Monday, November 30. The next preliminary will be held on Wednesday, December 2, the finals on the night of Wednesday, December 9, will have included in their program the playing of the R.O.T.C. band.

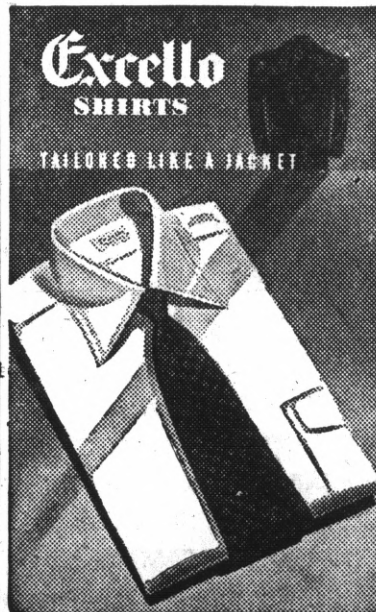

Alpha Chi Alpha appears to have picked a prize in the form of Jerry Harper, the rugged football player who also boxes. Jerry will be meeting rugged Dick De Gregorio, sponsored by Bib 'n' Tucker, one of the top boxing prospects in school, in what promises to be the most interesting match of the tournament.

In the Novice Heavyweight division, big John Burroughs, all six foot five, 250 pounds of him, will be sponsored by Alpha Chi Alpha.

P.E. PEEKS

Although there is little publicity about it, the Physical Education Department is constantly working to improve the P.E. program. At the moment the entire department is working on next semester's programs.

Recently, Drs. Leonard, Fessenden, and McBride went to State's summer camp in the Yuba Valley. The purpose of their trip was to make a survey of the facilities for both the summer recreation program and the winter sports program. Winter sports, in this case, is skiing, which many students enjoy at the camp during Christmas vacation. This is also a popular activity between semesters if the snow is still plentiful at that time.

MY SIDE

By KEITH PINCKNEY

WASN'T SO FUNNY AFTER ALL...

Soccer Coach, Art Bridgeman, is apparently more than a little perturbed about an item appearing in a previous sports page, stating that the coach "gleefully claimed a forfeit" when the Santa Clara Broncos failed to show for game (the mixup was caused by a misprinted Santa Clara schedule). Evidently, "gleefully" was a poor choice of words, putting Bridgeman's sense of sportsmanship in a bad light. Having covered soccer during my freshman year at S. F. State, I know that Art Bridgeman would rather play the game and win than accept the fourth-rate victory of a forfeit.

TIE GOES TO THE WINNER...

George Wehner and Maury Duncan were really tied for the outstanding player trophy, annually handed to the gridder who makes the best showing during the Homecoming game. Pressbox consensus resulted in a tie after much debate and a secret balloting. The trophy committee then presented the problem to the S. F. State coaches who also rated the duo a tossup for trophy honors.

DEVOTION TO A CAUSE...

Cross country runners, in the face of 40 mile an hour winds and a steady downpour, insisted on slogging around the 3.3 mile Lake Merced course. Although only one of the invited teams showed due to the inclement weather, those harriers that did show were eager to go. Last Friday's invitational marked the third annual meet hosted by the Gators.

SHORT SHOTS...

Coming up: the intramural cross-country run at 12 noon, November 24. The runners will start and finish in front of the gym. . . Preliminaries in the All-College boxing tournament will be held at noon November 30 and December 2. Finals in the event will begin December 9 at 8 p.m. . . . Quotable quote: (from Gator Football Coach Joe Verducci following the game with Santa Barbara State) "This is the first time that we've lost the battle of statistics and still won the game." The Gator gridders have been known in the past to outgain their opponents and still lose. . . Rumor: John Burton is said to be averaging 22 points a scrimmage during practice with the Purple and Gold basketball squad. Hope it's true. . . It looks odd to see football players around campus with cigarettes after two and a half months of enforced abstinence. Oh well, I can't quit either.

J. Paul Sheedy* Switched to Wildroot Cream-Oil
Because He Flunked The Finger-Nail Test

"Your hair's no yoke" bellowed Sheedy's gal. "Those cowlicks look awful. Why not take the bull by the horns and get yourself some Wildroot Cream-Oil, America's favorite hair tonic? Keeps hair combed without greasiness. Makes you look cud-dly. Removes loose, ugly dandruff. Relieves annoying dryness. Contains Lanolin. Non-alcoholic. I won't cow-tow 'til you start using it heifery day." Paul was utterly stunned, so he bought some Wildroot Cream-Oil for just 29¢. He told his girl the good moos and now they're hitched for life. So just steer yourself down to any toilet goods counter for a bottle or handy tube. And remember to ox your barber for Wildroot Cream-Oil too. You'll be the cream of the campus—and that's no bull.

ASSFSC Sec. Diane Daube Effervescent About State

"It's wonderful," said Diane Daube describing the position she holds as secretary of the student body.

The lively secretary takes part in many activities on campus but according to Diane the student body comes first. "I like being secretary for the student body. I've always been active and I really don't consider this work as I enjoy it so much."

Diane Daube

As secretary, Diane Daube takes minutes of the board of control and board of directors meetings and is a voting member at these meetings.

Majoring in elementary education, she began student teaching this semester. According to Diane, she wanted to teach because of her like for children.

Serving as a member of the senior class council, she has been co-editor of the "Pictorial Review" which took the place of the yearbook in previous years.

Eager to say a good word for San Francisco State, Diane exclaimed, "It's fabulous! The happiest years of my life have been spent here."

... News in Brief ...

Orientation Head

George Poquette, present on-campus orientation director, has been named to succeed Joe Velardo as General Chairman of Orientation for the coming year.

The appointment was made by ASSFSC President Bert Phillips at the Board of Directors meeting Tuesday afternoon.

Poquette is also president of the Club Advisory Association and chairman of on-campus publicity and promotion.

Christmas Festival

Christmas Festival and Dinner, annual party given on the last day of school before the holidays, will be held this year on Tuesday, December 15.

Sponsors this year are the Humanities Division and the Associated Students.

The program has been divided into three parts, beginning at 5:30 p.m. with the tree lighting ceremony in front of the College Union dining hall.

Dinner will be served immediately after the Christmas trees have been lit. A concert program in the main gymnasium will follow the dinner.

All students, their families, faculty and administrative personnel are invited to attend. Tickets may be obtained from the ASSFSC Business Office, building T-1, starting Monday, November 23.

The admission to this year's event will cost $2 per person.

Welfare Drive

Student Welfare and Benefit Drive begins after the Thanksgiving holidays in an effort to raise funds for needy students. Acting as co-chairman for the annual drive are Jack Havery and Lavell Holmes.

Sigma Delta Gamma sorority is acting as sponsors of this helpful student service.

The drive will begin on Monday, November 30, and end on Friday, December 5.

CCJC Alumni

Transfers from West Contra Costa Junior College at S.F. State are urged to join the newly formed Alumni Association of junior college graduates, Carl Ansberry, chairman of the temporary steering committee, announced today.

Alumni should expect to receive a letter and application blank in the near future from the Alumni steering committee. With the largest concentration of ex-WCCJC students at S.F. State in the bay area, Ansberry, a student at State, will welcome any inquiries from this large group.

Speakers' Bureau Cops Fourth Place In U.C. Speech Contest Preliminary

Speakers' Bureau won 4th place last Tuesday night in the preliminary speech contest at the University of California.

Winner of a first place cup was George Gill in the Oratory division with a speech on "Wetbacks." Chan Meloy, president, won a fourth place in Extemporaneous Speaking with a talk on "Taxation."

Four Gators won a position in the finals. This year Fresno will act as host for the speech contest finals.

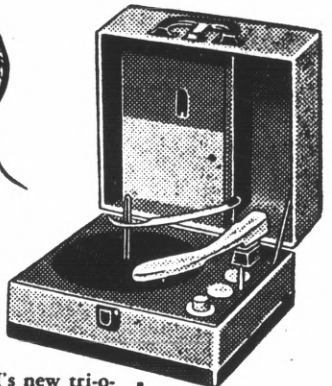

Fourteen State students in all, four faculty members, and one graduate student attended the tournament. The team captain was Warren Gustafson, graduate student from State. The debate, oratory and extemporaneous speaking were the three events in the speech fest.

Members of the Speakers' Bureau are: Cliff Custer, Irving Zimmer, Glen Blackwell, Allen Tribble, Bob Crozier, George Gill, Charles Fesler, Frank Malagnini, Edith Stern, Clark Vilas, Sue Stanley, Warren Gustafson, Toni Omar, John Burroughs.

MARGE and GOWER CHAMPION met as shy schoolkids at dancing school. Their paths criss-crossed for years as each worked hard to make a career. Finally, Gower, back from Service, "teamed up" with Marge. After months of strenuous rehearsal, they were a sensation, creating original "dance stories" for TV, movies and stage. They are now Mister and Missus.
